Introduction:

On September 25, 2020, the University of Mumbai hosted an online webinar centered around "Chanakya's Ideas on Service to Society." The webinar aimed to explore the timeless wisdom of Chanakya, an ancient Indian philosopher, economist, and strategist, and its relevance in serving the community.

Key Highlights:

1. Understanding Chanakya's Philosophy: The webinar commenced with an overview of Chanakya's life and contributions to ancient Indian philosophy, politics, and governance. Participants gained insights into his seminal work, the Arthashastra, which elucidates principles of statecraft, economics, and ethics.
2. Service to Society: Discussions focused on Chanakya's emphasis on the welfare of society and the duties of rulers towards their subjects. Speakers elucidated how his ideas on governance, justice, and social welfare can be applied in contemporary contexts to address societal challenges and promote collective well-being.
3. Practical Applications: The webinar highlighted practical strategies derived from Chanakya's teachings that individuals can employ to serve their communities effectively. Participants engaged in dialogue about the importance of integrity, leadership, and empathy in fulfilling one's responsibilities towards society.
4. Interactive Sessions: Throughout the webinar, interactive sessions facilitated lively discussions and exchange of ideas among participants. Q&A sessions provided opportunities for clarifications and deeper exploration of Chanakya's principles and their implications for service-oriented leadership.

Volunteer Engagement:

Under the guidance of Program Officer Prof. Dr. Shahina Khan, 07 student volunteers played integral roles in organizing and executing the webinar. Their responsibilities included logistical arrangements, participant management, technical support, and ensuring the smooth flow of the event.

Conclusion:

The online webinar on Chanakya's Ideas on Service to Society provided a platform for meaningful deliberations on timeless principles of social responsibility and leadership. By drawing insights from Chanakya's wisdom, participants were inspired to contribute positively to the betterment of society and uphold ethical standards in their endeavors.

Acknowledgment:

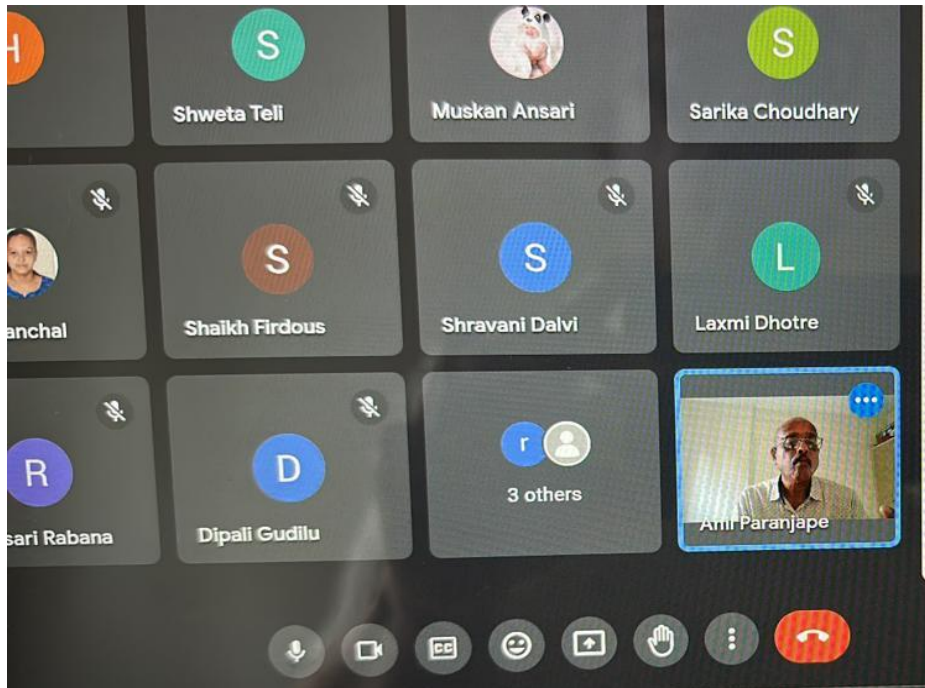

The University of Mumbai extends its gratitude to all participants, volunteers, and speakers for their active engagement and valuable contributions towards making the webinar a success.
